SIR HENRY MORGAN, BUCCANEER

By CYRUS TOWNSEND BRADY,

Author of "The Southerners," "For Love of Country," "The Grip of Honor," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY G. W. DILLINGHAM COMPANY

The bulk of the party, which numbered perhaps a hundred men, were simply plain, ordinary thieves, cut-throats, broken down seamen, land sharks and rascals. Not much to be expected of them. They were not of the stuff of which the old time buccaneers had been made, but they were the best to be obtained at that time in Port Royal. Even they would not have been so easily assembled had they realized quite what was expected of them. They knew, of course, that they were committing themselves to some nefarious undertaking, but to each recruit had been vouchsafed only enough information to get him to come to the rendezvous, no more.

By Hornigold's orders they were told off in five parties of about twenty each, commanded respectively by himself, Velsers, Ravenau, the Brazilian, and the last by Teach, who, though the youngest of the leaders, had a character for daring wickedness that would stop at nothing. With much difficulty the boatswain had succeeded in obtaining five boats, each capable of carrying one band. Every one brought his own arms, and in general these men did not lack a sufficiency of weapons. Those who were deficient, however, were supplied from a scanty stock which the leaders had managed to procure.

All was in readiness when one of the men who had been stationed on the extreme edge of the beach toward the channel reported the approach of a small boat looking like the pinnace.

The wind, fortunately for the enterprising, happened to be blowing fresh out of the harbor, and it was necessary for the pinnace to beat up toward the entrance. She showed no lights, but as she tacked in close to the shore between the watcher and the lights of the town he observed her. She was handled with consummate skill. She dropped anchor and hauled down her sails noiselessly just abreast the pier which had been appointed the rendezvous by the two men on the night before. As soon as Hornigold learned of the approach he took a small boat, leaving Velsers in command of the band on shore, and repaired with the other leaders to the wharf on the other side. As the boat approached the wharf it was hailed in a sharp whisper.

"Who comes?" cried the voice on shore.

"Hornigold!" answered the boatswain in a low tone as the boat swept alongside.

"So 'tis you, is it?" cried Morgan, attended by the maroon, as usual, again putting his pistol back into his belt. "Seeing so many of you in the skiff, I feared a trap until you gave the word."

"I've brought along Ravenau, the Brazilian, and young Teach," said the boatswain.

"Welcome, my hearties, all!" said the vice governor softly. "We're off to the Spanish main with a good ship, plenty of liquor beneath the hatches, brave hearts to run her. There will be plenty of pickings meet for any man. Are you with me?"

"We are," answered one and another.

The place where they stood was lonely and deserted at that time of night, but Hornigold suggested that they immediately repair to the other side, there to perfect their further plans.

"How many men have you gathered?" asked Morgan.

"About fivescore."

"Boats?"

"Five."

"Who leads each boat?"

"I one, sir, with your permission; Ravenau here another, the Brazilian the third, young Teach a fourth and Velsers the fifth."

"Good! Are they all armed?"

"Every man has a sword and a pistol at least."

"What of the men?"

"A poor lot," answered Teach recklessly, "a dastardly crew."

"Will they fight, think ye?"

"Curse me, they'll have to fight. We'll make 'em," said Hornigold.

"Do they know what's up?"

"Not exactly," answered Ravenau, the Frenchman, a man of good birth and gentle manners, but as cruel and ruthless a villain as any that ever cut a throat or scuttled a ship. "Have no fear, captain. Once we start them they will have to fight."

"Did you ever know me to show fear, De Lussan?" cried the captain, bending forward and staring at the Frenchman, his eyes glittering in the darkness like those of a wildcat.

"No, captain."

"No, nor did any other man," answered Morgan. After a short pause Morgan resumed:

"Have they suspected my escape?"

"They have," answered the boatswain. "They found the remains of the three bodies in the burned house this morning. At first they thought one of them was yours, but they decided after awhile that one was a woman, and they guessed that you had made away with the officers and escaped. I told them you had stolen my pinnace and got away."

"And he swore and cursed you roundly, captain," interposed the Brazilian, chuckling maliciously. "Aye, sir, he swore if he got hands on you he would give you up."

Morgan turned this time to Hornigold. He was by no means sure of his position. He knew the omity of these men, and he did not know how far their cupidity or their desire to take up the old life once more under such fortunate auspices as would be afforded under his command would restrain them.

"Master Ben Hornigold, said ye that?" he queried. "Would ye betray me?"

His hand stole to his waist, and his fingers closed around his pistol grip.

"No fear, captain," answered that worthy composedly, sustaining the captain's searching gaze. A braver man never stepped a deck than he. "I did it to divert their attention. You see, they fancied at first that we old sea dogs might have something to do with your escape. They reckoned that you had been hard on us and that we might be hard on ye."

"No more of this, gentlemen! The past is gone! We begin again!" cried Morgan fiercely. "And, mark me, the man who betrays Harry Morgan will not live many minutes to boast it! I'd kill him if he sat on the steps of a throne! Easy there!" he called out to the oarsmen, assuming the command as by right, while the boat's keel grated on the shingle. "All out now and lead the way. Nay, gentlemen, you shall all precede me. Carib here will bring up the rear. And it may be well for you to keep your weapons in your belts."

Charley Barr and the Atlantic Lead In Long Race.

New York, May 18.—A splendid fleet of sailing yachts swept across a starting line at Sandy Hook lightship and with the queenly American schooner Atlantic leading the way, headed out to the broad Atlantic ocean on a race of 3,000 miles to the English coast for a $5,000 cup offered by Emperor William of Germany.

When last seen as they vanished into the mist they were strung out in a line six miles long, heading south-eastward and pointing as nearly as possible to a wind that was dead ahead. A quarter of a mile astern of the Atlantic was the 90-foot American yawl Ailsa, which was having a hot brush with the German schooner Hamburg, while all three of the leaders were slowly dropping the Philadelphia schooner Hildegarde. Next was the Endymion, holder of the trans-Atlantic yachting record. Almost a mile astern of the Atlantic and more than half a mile astern of the Endymion were the Thistle and Fleur de Lis. Strung out behind were the American barque Apache, the British topsail schooner Sunbeam, and five miles astern of the leader was the American three-masted schooner Utowana. Bringing up the rear was the British clipper ship Valhalla. These two had been delayed by a bad start.

London Is Interested.

London, May 18.—Interest in the trans-Atlantic yachting race is as yet largely confined to yachting circles in London, but reports of its progress from passing vessels are certain to arouse popular enthusiasm in this city. Experts here are inclined to favor the chances of the Atlantic from a strictly expert viewpoint, while the Valhalla naturally is the favorite of the Englishmen who are wishing for heavy winds. Betting on the race has not yet commenced.

Huntington, Ind., May 18.—Jacob Kern, nineteen years old, only support of his aged mother, was electrocuted near Andrews. The body was discovered near the track with both hands grasping a span of wire which hung from the Wabash Valley Traction company's wire. His hands had been burned to a crisp and his body blackened.

NEARING THE END

Chicago Strike Finish Is Now But a Matter of Hours.

A LOGICAL CONCLUSION

Movement That Was Not Supported by Public Opinion Is Tottering to Its Fall.

Strikers Are Now Anxious to Make Best Terms Possible With Employers.

Chicago, May 18.—It is highly probable that the next twenty-four hours will see the end of the teamster strike in Chicago. Although none of the labor leaders will so acknowledge, it is generally understood that the program for calling off the strike has already been arranged.

A meeting is in progress today between the teamsters' joint council and a committee representing the Team Owners' association. It will be made plain to the teamsters that the business interests of the team owners render it imperative that the boycotts be lifted. It will then be agreed by the team owners and the teamsters' joint council that the demand of the team owners to make deliveries to boycotted houses with union drivers be submitted to arbitration. This arbitration is to concern only the Team Owners' association and the teamsters, the members of the employers' association being in no manner interested in it in an official sense. Pending the decision of this board of arbitration, the strike is to be called off and such members of the teamsters' union as are able to obtain their old situations will return to work. This will end the strike entirely, with the exception of the strike against Montgomery Ward & Co., and as it is not expected that aggressive measures will be adopted by either side, the trouble in this direction will be allowed to die out gradually.

President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor is very active in all efforts toward settling the strike. He conferred with members of the Team Owners' association, held conferences with the teamsters and had an extended talk with Mayor Dunne. He refused to state the result of his work, but expressed himself as being confident that the strike would be adjusted within a short time. The manner of the settlement he declined to discuss, but said he was in favor of almost any plan that would bring about an honorable adjustment.

Little if any opposition is being made by the strikers and their friends to the making of deliveries by non-union drivers. In fact the streets have almost assumed their normal condition and there is little to indicate that a strike of such large proportions is in progress.

YOUNG ANARCHISTS

Get a Reminder That There Is Such a Thing as Law.

Chicago, May 18.—The authorities have taken hold of the strike fever in the public schools with a firm hand. Judge Mack of the juvenile court sentenced one boy to be imprisoned at the John Worthy school, which is a branch of the house of correction, and two at the parental school, while a fourth was released on probation. The boys arraigned were Harry Kerwin, thirteen years old, a ring leader in the disturbances at the Hendricks school; Thomas Halloran, thirteen years of age; Harry Strauss, fourteen years of age; and John Pierce, fifteen years old. Halloran and Strauss were sent to the parental school, Pierce was released, but is required to report at stated intervals to Truant Officer Bradburn.

Miss Florence Colt, principal of the Hendricks school, and W. L. Bodine, superintendent of compulsory education, prosecuted the prisoners. Miss Colt said that she had seen all four boys throw coal and stones at the non-union teamsters. The boys admitted their guilt.

"I threw coal at them, all right," said young Kerwin. The boy's father, who was in court, interrupted, saying: "Tell the judge why you threw at them."

"Because they were scabs," asserted the prisoner.

The smile of the elder Kerwin at his son's reply was cut short by Superintendent Bodine, who marched up to Kerwin and demanded: "Are you in any way responsible for this boy's conduct? Have you put these ideas into his head? If you have I will swear out a warrant for you at once."

Kerwin denied having suggested the assault upon the non-union men or having instigated in any way the strike at the school.

Judge Mack passed sentence at once upon young Kerwin and the lad's three companions joined him in an outburst of crying and appealed volubly for mercy. Their parents also wept and pleaded with the judge for another chance for the prisoners. The judge, however, remained fixed in his determination. He replied to the parents: "These school strikes must stop. They have got to stop, and they will stop right away. It is time these boys learned there is such a thing as law and that those who break laws must suffer. The sentences will stand."

"This is only the beginning," said Superintendent Bodine. "I am going to have the ring-leaders in strikes in other schools brought in and propose to make school strikes in Chicago a thing of the past. With the prosecution of the boys will go prosecution of parents who actively sympathize with them and give countenance to disturbances at school."

Six warrants have been sworn out for the parents of young strikers in the Harrison school district, and they will be arraigned in court at once.

JONES NO PIRATE

Watterson Denies England's Defamation of Naval Hero.

Paris, May 18.—At the farewell banquet to Ambassador Porter last night Henry Watterson made a characteristic speech which, after a glowing tribute to General Porter, took up the achievements of Paul Jones. His close-ing words hurling back the taunt of the British press that Jones was a pirate, aroused great enthusiasm.

"It was the hands of Paul Jones," said Mr. Watterson, "which first loosened the flag which we adore and which carried this flag defiant and triumphant into English waters; into the Irish sea and into the North sea, yea into St. George's channel; not merely bearding the lion in his den, but coming away with those same hands stuffed with indisputable trophies, with actual and visible fragments of his make and tail. I do not wonder they called him a pirate; but if he was a pirate, Washington was a highwayman and Franklin a lobster!"

DUAL PERSONALITY

This Plea Is Presented by Defendant in Murder Case.

Somerville, N. J., May 18.—A remarkable psychological problem has been presented for the study of the many alienists in the court in connection with the trial of George Wood for the murder of George Williams, the grocer of Watchung. Wood, who, according to his counsel, is the victim of a dual personality, in one phase of which he is under the influence of purely imaginary persons, took the stand in his own defense.

Throughout the long examination of his counsel and the rigorous cross-questioning of the prosecutor, Wood preserved a perfectly calm demeanor and replied to all questions promptly and straightforwardly and in a fashion logically consistent with his declared belief that he is possessed of "familiar" whose mandates he is irresistibly compelled to obey and that of his actions when under their influence he retains no recollection on regaining his normal identity. Wood denied that he had ever known Williams or had ever seen him to his knowledge, and answering a direct question, swore positively that he did not kill him.

ACTION IS PENDING

Both Naval and Military Developments Expected In Far East.

AN OMINOUS SILENCE

Cessation of Dispatches From the Principals in the Great War Tragedy is Portentous.

Russia Is Looking for Action on the Part of Both Arms of Her Force.

St. Petersburg, May 18.—With a suspicious stoppage of dispatches from Manchuria and a strong possibility that Vice Admiral Rojestvensky has cut his last communications with home and set forth on the final stage of his journey to his goal, either Togo or Vladivostok, keen interest is manifested in the two-fold field of war. Though the admiralty, which has been completely silent since the advent of Rojestvensky in the Chinese sea, publishes no dispatches, the conviction is growing that the united squadrons, as indicated by press dispatches on May 15, departed from the Annam coast immediately after their juncture, and naval officials are anxiously expecting news of the first skirmishes between scouts of the hostile fleets.

Neither the admiralty nor individual officers have any information regarding the rumored request of Vice Admiral Rojestvensky to be relieved, and all who were questioned regarding the report expressed doubts of its accuracy. It was pointed out that it would have been entirely impracticable for the fleet to delay in the China sea until the arrival of Vice Admiral Bireff, and it was declared that Rojestvensky will keep his flag flying as long as he is not utterly incapacitated for command, which then would naturally devolve on Vice Admiral Voelkersam, who is known as an officer with a Teutonic thoroughness and attention to the fine details of his profession. He is also a notable strategist and theoretician. It was announced that Vice Admiral Bireff will be sent to Vladivostok, which possibly accounts for the origin of the rumor of Rojestvensky's request to be relieved of his command.

On the military side the indications are that events are rapidly shaping for the preliminary stage of another great battle. The Russian army has been refitted and is ready for action, and it is asserted that General Linevitch is not the man to waste days in inaction.

A further mobilization of cavalry in one or two districts was ordered today, but no large draft is required, as reinforcements for the cavalry arm are at hand in the recently embodied Cossacks, whose departure for Manchuria was postponed in anticipation of May Day troubles, the most of whom can now resume the trip eastward. A small but important detachment will leave St. Petersburg today to join General Linevitch's army.

ALL IS QUIET

Affairs in Santo Domingo Are Once More Serene.

Washington, May 18.—Dr. Jacob H. Hollander of Baltimore, who was sent to Santo Domingo by President Roosevelt as a special commissioner to make an investigation of the fiscal affairs of that government, has just had an extended interview with President Roosevelt. He told the president he had found perfect acquiescence on the part of both the officials of the present government and of the people of Santo Domingo in the arrangement which had been entered into between the two governments. The revolution, so-called, had not in his opinion amounted to much, and just now there was not even a suggestion of internal trouble. So far as his observation went, Dr. Hollander could see no reason why the present status should not continue uninterrupted until a new and more definite arrangement could be effected. He is to return to Santo Domingo in September to complete his inquiries, and will then make an elaborate report upon Dominican finances and claims which the president will submit to the senate for its guidance in acting upon the pending treaty.

Christian Scientists Convicted. Toronto, Ont., May 18.—The first conviction ever secured of a Christian Scientist in Canada has been recorded at the assizes court. Mrs. Sarah Goodfellow, mother of Wallace Goodfellow, a young man who died while under Christian Science treatment, Isabelle Grant, Elizabeth Lee and William Brunerette were charged with unlawfully conspiring on January 4 to deprive Wallace Goodfellow of proper medical care and nursing, whereby his death was caused. The jury was out for three hours and returned a verdict of guilty. The case will be appealed.

Fixing Saloon Limits.

Brazil, Ind., May 18.—The city council has passed an ordinance naming the streets and defining the limits on which licenses will be issued for saloons. The action of the council will put eight of the forty-six saloons in this city out of business as soon as their present licenses expire.

A Disgusted Lawyer.

New York, May 18.—Abraham Levy, who defended Nan Patterson during her three trials, announces that he has withdrawn from the case finally and absolutely. Mr. Levy said he understood that Miss Patterson intended to accept an offer from a theatrical manager and added that he strongly disapproved of such action. "I put in nearly a year of arduous and patient work," he said, "and after I had accomplished the purpose of my retainer and secured my client's discharge from custody, my hands are cleared. I am through with the Nan Patterson case. That cannot be put too plainly."

An Unexpected Raid.

Chicago, May 18.—In a raid made upon the "Belmont matrimonial agency," an alleged matrimonial agency at 1214 State street, detectives arrested three persons and seized several thousand letters and photographs. The prisoners gave the names of Oscar Wells, "Doc" Moses and M. Folcher. They were charged with disorderly conduct and were released under bonds. The police say the club has done a large business. The prisoners would not discuss their arrest.

SUIT FILED.

Redding Township Affairs Get Into Court.

Since the first of the year there has been more or less gossip about irregularity in the management of Redding township affairs by Bruce Davis, the former trustee. The report he made to the auditor the first of January was held up several weeks before it was given to the public. J. E. Glosson, the present trustee, never did accept that report as a basis for settlement between the retiring trustee and himself.

There were rumors of a shortage but it has been difficult to run down the rumors. No one apparently had first hand information. It was reported that suit was to be filed against Davis and his bondsmen for an accounting and a settlement. Months passed but at last suit has been filed. Today J. E. Glosson, trustee of Redding township, filed suit against trustee Bruce Davis and his bondsmen, Richard Madden, John Sparks and Henry Beitman, for settlement. Just the amount of the demand we were unable to learn but it is probably between one thousand and two thousand dollars. The progress and result of this suit will be watched with interest, especially by the taxpayers of Redding township.

How to Ward Off Old Age.

The most successful way of warding off the approach of old age is to maintain a vigorous digestion. This can be done by eating only food suited to your age and occupation, and when any disorder of the stomach appears take a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets to correct it. If you have a weak stomach or are troubled with indigestion, you will find these Tablets to be just what you need. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

A Good Suggestion

Mr. C. B. Wainwright of Lenon City, Fla., has written the manufacturers that much better results are obtained from the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in cases of pains in the stomach, colic and cholera morbus by taking it in water as hot as can be drunk. That when taken in this way the effect is double in rapidity. "It seems to get at the right spot instantly," he says. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Very Best.

"I have been using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and want to say it is the best cough medicine I have ever taken," says Geo. L. Chubb, a merchant of Harlan, Mich. There is no question about its being the best, as it will cure a cough or cold in less time than any other treatment. It should always be kept in the house ready for instant use, for a cold can be cured in much less time when promptly treated. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

RESULT INTERESTING

Politicians Studying the Vote in the First With Interest.

Indianapolis, May 18.—The defeat of Mayor G. V. Menzies of Mt. Vernon for congress in the special election in the First district was not surprising to politicians, as the district has been going Republican for ten years. The advantage was with the Republicans from the start, as they controlled the organization, and the effect of the landslide last November has not entirely worn off. The district has become solidly Republican, but Mayor Menzies made an excellent race. The result is interesting to the politicians, who take every result as a basis for future estimates. The result Tuesday is chiefly interesting on that account. It shows that there was either a big falling off in the Republican vote or that the vote last fall was abnormal, as the Democrats claimed. It is true that less than 75 per cent of the vote was cast, yet at the same time there is probably as much reason to expect that Mayor Menzies would have held his own among them as he did with the portion that was placed in the ballot-boxes. If his showing was not the result of personal popularity, then the two parties are getting back to the old footing when the state and district were not a cinch for either party.

The fight for cheaper fuel and illuminating gas here is becoming more interesting and may be made one of the paramount features of the municipal campaign. The board of works has given notice that the city will bid for the plant of the Consumers' Gas Trust company, which a clique of prominent local capitalists is arranging to dismantle and make a big lot of money or sell it to the Indianapolis Gas company. The latter has an exclusive field in the artificial gas business. There has been a public agitation in favor of cheaper gas, many believing it could be furnished at least a third lower than the present rate. The city proposes to exercise its right to take an option on the Consumers' property and to advertise a franchise to let. If a good company is organized to take the franchise the city will try to dispose of the Consumers' property to it. At least this is understood to be the plan. The fight for the Consumers' property is bringing into action many of the brainiest men in the city, and there is no telling how it will end.

The state board of education which is in session here has prepared an interesting circular to be sent to city and town superintendents and school trustees, advising that the boards be executive in their functions, the superintendents advisory, and that superintendents be given authority to employ teachers. But the most interesting feature is the portion advising against exclusive employment of home talent teachers. "The custom is a bad one," the statement continues, "and this is particularly true when the teachers employed have no training other than that obtained in the home school. With such a system of 'in-breeding' it does not take long for the stock of ideas to run out." The board met today with the public library commission at which matters in which they are jointly interested were considered.

Ex-Mayor C. A. Bookwalter opened headquarters today from which to conduct his canvass for renomination. He is wading right in with customary vigor. The Bookwalter men are apparently very confident, but their candidate does not seem to be gaining much ground. He has a majority of the party leaders on his side, but in a direct primary the average voter counts about as much as the average leader. Bookwalter's chances are very good in spite of the opposition of the machine.

George A. H. Shideler of Marion, who is talked of as a probable candidate for congress in the Eleventh district and also for the chairmanship of the Republican state committee, was here today. He said, however, that he came on private business. He met a number of Republican leaders, but it is said that no reference was made to his plans. He had no announcement to make as to whether or not he will be a candidate for the chairmanship.

DRIFTING TOWARDS BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Many people who are neglecting symptoms of kidney trouble, hoping "it will wear away," are drifting towards Bright's Disease, which is kidney trouble in one of its worst forms.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE

stops irregularities, strengthens the urinary organs and builds up the worn-out tissues of the kidneys so they will perform their functions properly. Healthy kidneys strain out the impurities from the blood as it passes through them. Diseased kidneys do not, and the poisonous waste matter is carried by the circulation to every part of the body, causing dizziness, backache, stomach trouble, sluggish liver, irregular heart action, etc.

If you have any signs of Kidney or Bladder Trouble commence taking FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE at once, as it will cure a slight disorder in a few days and prevent a fatal malady. It is pleasant to take and benefits the whole system.

How to Find Out.

You can easily determine if your kidneys are out of order by setting aside for 24 hours a bottle of the urine passed upon arising. If upon examination it is cloudy or milky or has a brick-dust sediment or small particles float about in it, your kidneys are diseased, and FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE should be taken at once.

G. B. Burhans Testifies After Four Years.

G. B. Burhans of Carlisle Center, N. Y., writes: "About four years ago I wrote you stating that I had been entirely cured of a severe kidney trouble by taking less than two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure. It entirely stopped the brick-dust sediment and a tasteless discharge of kidney disease disappeared. I am glad to say that I have never had a return of any of those symptoms during the four years that have elapsed, and I am evidently cured to stay cured, and heartily recommend Foley's Kidney Cure to any one suffering from kidney or bladder trouble."

VOTE BUYING.

New Law is Strict and Covers the Ground.

The men who are in the habit of buying votes and those who are in the habit of selling their citizenship at every election would do well to study the new law on that subject. The people deplore the fact that the floating population has been on the increase and welcome the new law. This new statute reads as follows:

SEC. 1.—That whoever, directly or indirectly, hires, buys, or offers to hire or buy, or furnishes any money or other means to be used, or handle any money or other means, knowing the same to be used to induce, or buy any person to vote or to refrain from voting any ticket or for any office, to be voted for at any election to be held pursuant to law or at any primary held in this state, by offering any such person any reward or favor, shall be fined in any sum not more than $50 and disfranchised and rendered incapable of holding any office of trust or profit for a period of ten years from the date of conviction.

SEC. 2.—Provides a like penalty for any person selling his vote.

Moocher Defined.

An Illinois paper, speaking of a moocher, tells what one is in the following eloquent language: "A moocher is one who sells his vote, or gets too busy on election day to take time to go and vote without some compensation. A moocher is also one who fails to vote for a consideration, and a moocher is also the fellow who will not take money for his own vote, but 'knows of a few fellows' whom he can influence but it will take a little money to get them his way."
